The Wake County Association Holds an Interesting and Important Meet-

A meeting of the Wake County Confederate Veterans Association has for some years past been a feature of the annual memorial exercises. They met this year as usual, and the meeting was of unusual interest and importance.

Of the more important business was the adoption of a motion by Dr. P. F. Hines, that a committee be appointed to | error. take steps toward having a proper history of the Southern soldiers written. This history is intended to show the true character of the Confederate sol- ror. dier-that he was not a rebel nor a traitor-but a defender of the greatest principle underlying the system of American government. Dr. P. E. Hines, Capt. E. R. Stamps, Col. W. L. Saunders and Mr. W. C. Stronach were appointed on the committee. Mr. Stronach called attention to the fact that the association was not in the habit of attending the funerals of de-ceased Schiers. Mr. C. D. THE INSANE OF THE STATE.

Buildings for Each Class.

If your issue of yesterday, a statement was made of certain action taken in a recent meeting of the Executive place. The item says:

Among the business transacted was the issuing of orders to put some of the criminal insane to work. It is learned that the authorities of the Insane Asylum have determined to make room for some of the many curable cases in the State, by sending from be exercised to prevent the use in our the Asylum to their respective counties, such of the incurable cases as are perfeetly harmless. Notices under the law have been issued to the county authorities to remove the parties designated by the board from the Asylum, but as yet On motion of Mr. T. P. Devereux, the no action has been taken except by the name of the association was changed to counties of Johnson, Wilson, Halifax, the Junius Daniel Camp of the Con- and Nash. This is a duty imposed by the law on the board, and the board A committee was appointed, consist- feels that the crowded condition of the institution with harmless incurables, together with the large number of curable cases now in the jail, and poor houses that can be profitably treated in the asylum, and the greater number of danger-ous cases in this division of the State, demand the enforcement of the law.

* * I will offer a suggestion from a piny-woods standpoint, not to the executive committee, but to the next Legislature of the State.

I say from a piny-woods standpoint, because I am not posted as to different methods of caring for the insane in other States and while the suggestion may be crude, I believe the genius of our civilization will reach up to it.

It is, that the State should maintain asylums for such of the incurable insane as cannot or should not be removed to their respective counties, and other asylums in which the insane considered to be curable, can be kept from the other classes and also in which the entire time

A future radiant with promise existing, to a greater or lesser degree seems to open before us. with the latter class? The association may not be by actual contact. It may uot be seen. It can be heard. At any rate it may be felt. All are together under one roof and they know it. There are lucid intervals when these conditions can be realized and must be Perhaps, too, while the same skill may labor to effect a cure in the one case, yet it must, as at present, serve also to care for and to restrain the other class.

The reply comes, that such an arrangement will cause a needless expense, as a plant must be furnished, revenue for its maintenance must be afforded, and skilled specialists must be paid. Certainly there will be expense, not needless however. At all events if no additional money is to be spent, could not one of the two asylums be used for Just remember the cattle show. It is one purpose, and the second for the other. If an additional asylum for the and maintained, could not each existing asylum have erected, if such a law can be passed, one or two comfortable homes on the grounds of each, where such case only the cost of erection and equipment of such buildings, with the needed attendants, would have to be met, as the present medical skill could

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE GRAND LODGE IN WIL-MINGTON.

The Establishment of an Orphan Asylum the Most Important Question --An Odd Fellows' Temple for Ral-

The State Grand Lodge of the Inde pendent Order of Odd Fellows met at Wilmington last night. It met in that same "Queen City by the Sea" in 1843. Since that time the order has grown from an infant to a giant.

The most important matter which will come before the Grand Lodge is the establishment of an orphan asylum. The order is enthusiastic over this question and has determined that it shall materialize at an early day. There is already a fund of $2,800 in hand toward the object, and the anticipations are that $2,500 more will be secured at this meeting of the Grand Lodge.

The board of trustees of the asylum is composed of Hon. A. H. A. Williams, of Oxford; Mr. C. B. Edwards, of Raleigh, and Mr. N. Jacobi, of Wilmington. The number will be increased to five or seven trustees at this meeting, and they will be requested to secure proposals for location and site, and proceed at once with the building of the asylum. The policy outlined is such that while the care of orphans is to begin at once, the building of the institution may be deferred for a time.

Seaton Gales lodge, and Manteo lodge, of this city, have already made a pro-Rumbough vs. Improvement Company | position to the effect that if the institution shall be located here for the first six months, they will provide the necessary State vs. Fain, from Cherokee-No that time. It is proposed to raise the funds necessary for sustaining the insti-Lanning vs. Commins, from Transyl- tution by assessing the members of the which amount the asylum could be easily begun.

Odd Fellows' Temple.

It is officially announced that among other things projected, and likely to assume definite shape in the very near "Odd Fellows' Temple" in Raleigh, which will be of such character as to reflect honor upon the order in this jurisdiction. It will probably be owned by a joint stock company, but controlled by Odd Fellows, and it may be well for this Grand Lodge to consider the propriety of Sabscribing to the capital stock, and thus provide a permanent home Curables and Incurables --- Separate for its sessions, and a location for its grand officers. Sixteen thousand dollars of the capital is already assured.

The Grand Master's Address Grand Master Jos. G. Brown, of Raleigh, is prevented from being at the Committee of the Insane Asylum at this meeting by a multiplicity of business cares, but he forwarded his greeting before the Grand Lodge. Among other things the address says: by their loving ministrations to their needy and distressed brethren, for which purpose alone they are spending more than one half of an annual income of $12,000,000. The Grand Master goes on to recite the increase of the Order in this State last year. Seven hundred and sixtyfive new members were enrolled, and many new lodges organized. The total membership is now nearly 2,200, and the lodge receipts next year will be nearly $3,000.

The various features of the order are touched upon, and the Grand Master closes by saying:

To-day, as I look about me, my heart swells with gratitude to Him whose hand has been so graciously opened unto us, and who has blessed us so abundantly. Peace, prosperity and harmony reign throughout our borders.

Our finances are in sound condition. Our numerical gain has nearly doubled that of any former year. Our roll shows more active members than ever before.

Our growth is steady and rapid. All these things indeed rejoice our hearts, but special cause have we for congratulation in the fact that the standard of membership has been raised, the refining and purifying process has been going on, the metal has been tried in the crucible, and, as far as possible, the dross separated from the pure gold. The black ball has been freely and judiciously used. Our members are fully imbued with the grand teachings of our Order and are enthusiastic in their de-

The opportunity is upon us. Let us seize it, brethren, and "go on" to yet greater achievements, remembering that 'Friendship towards man prompts the contests, the gentle influences of love sup ply the weapons, Truth consecrates the effort and leads to victory. The war is waging, and to quote Grand Secretary

"Faith, with resplendent eyes, looks on lovingly, and bids you fail not, falter not, weary not of well doing." Hope bends over you a bow bright with magnificent promise for the future, inviting you to enter upon and occupy the uncultivated grounds; and charity, 'chief among the blessed three," with her angelic countenance, smiles her approval of your efforts in the past, encouraging to still greater achievements in the years
